

Children's Brain Tumor Project - Gift Form

The Children's Brain Tumor Project is a novel research effort at the Weill Cornell Medicine Department of Neurological Surgery that is co-directed by Dr. Mark Souweidane and Dr. Jeffrey Greenfield. The Children's Brain Tumor Project has a single goal: to bring hope to the hundreds of patients and families each year who confront the heartbreaking diagnoses of rare and inoperable pediatric brain tumors.

All mail-in gifts accompanying this form will be appropriately stewarded in support of the Children's Brain Tumor Project lab at Weill Cornell Medicine.

EIN: 15-0532082.

Please make your check out to Weill Cornell Medical College and indicate "Children's Brain Tumor Project" or "CBTP" in the memo, in addition to any specific campaign or Doctor/Principal Investigator you may be donating to.
